Day 1 (18/01/2022):

1. Organisation & Working

An Organisation is a set of people that includes you, your peers, your subordinates, your boss and similar people of other departments where all are a medium to achieve certain targets or accomplishments set by the management.

Their primary goal is to generate saleable products/services for another company or for the consumer with reasonable profit.

Participants: Shri. N. S. Patil, HOD Mechanical EMT, Pratiksha Dhadgalkar, Ashish Sankh, Anand Shinde, G. K. Patil, G. K. Patil, G. K. Patil.

Utilisation of Duty time

This will be a new locus for most people working in any organization. Usually, the duty time is 8.5 hours, inclusive of a 30-minute lunch break.

Now, one must plan these hours in order to improve efficacy and have a result-oriented approach.

My formula for this is $6 + 0.5 + 2$.

6 hrs. should be devoted to the daily tasks as given by your boss,
30 minutes for lunch and the remaining
2 hours should be kept for any potential improvements in your department

Participants: Shri. N. S. Patil, HOD Mechanical EMT, Pratiksha Dhadgalkar, Ashish Sankh, Anand Shinde, G. K. Patil, G. K. Patil, G. K. Patil.

Day 2 (19/01/2022):

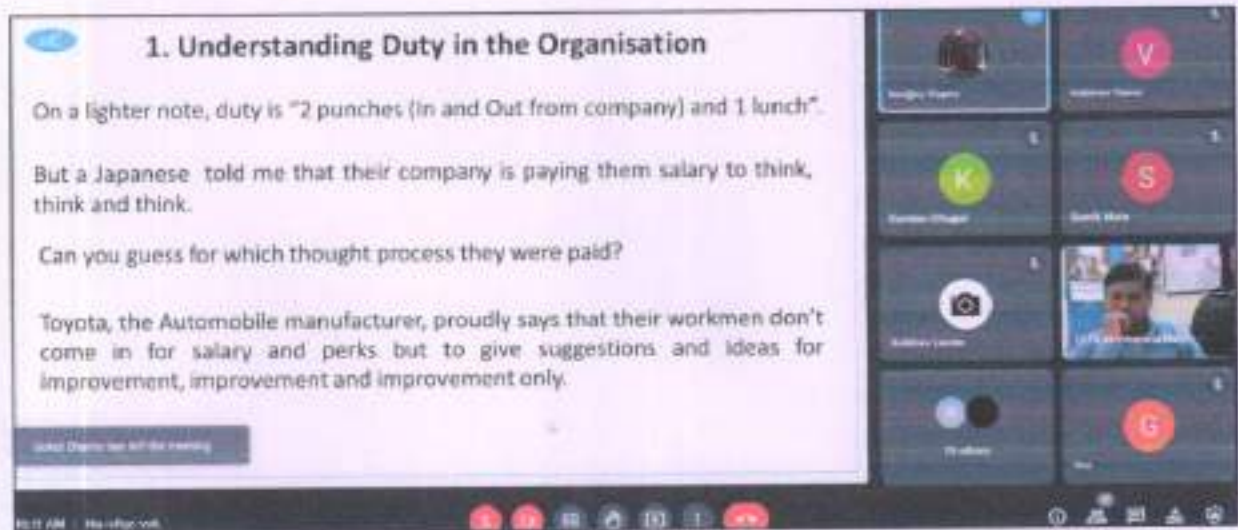

1. Understanding Duty in the Organisation

On a lighter note, duty is "2 punches (in and Out from company) and 1 lunch".

But a Japanese told me that their company is paying them salary to think, think and think.

Can you guess for which thought process they were paid?

Toyota, the Automobile manufacturer, proudly says that their workmen don't come in for salary and perks but to give suggestions and ideas for improvement, improvement and improvement only.
