Policy of Slow and Advanced Learner

(Academic Year 2018-19)

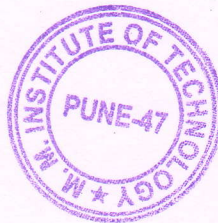

The policy is set for the academic year 2018-19 to identify the Slow and Advanced Learner. It is a term use to describe the academic ability of the student. In order to grasp the new concept a slow learner needs more time, more repetition and often more attention from faculty.

This policy is designed only for newly admitted students, i.e., First Year Engineering and Direct Second Year Engineering students. At the start of the semester the respective HoDs and Class Teacher identify the slow learner and advance learner based on following criteria

- Psychometric Test
- Felder Test
- Test for Basic Engineering Subjects

The special treatment is given to slow learning student by taking extra efforts in lecture and giving some assignment. In practical session, group of advance learning student and slow learning student is made so that it will benefit to slow learner.
